

CALENDAR OF WORLD EVENTS

Washington's Most
READABLE Newspaper

Do Your Friend A Good Turn

No doubt you've a friend not living in Washington who is interested in the march of events in foreign countries in general and this country in particular. Do him the favor of sending him this copy of—

The Washington Herald Weekly Review

It will provide him with the means of viewing what has transpired during the past week. It will give him briefly the events of outstanding importance and enable him to arrive at correct conclusions as to their probable outcome. There's no doubt but what—your thoughtfulness in sending him this valuable review—when you're through with it put a one-cent stamp on it and send it along.

He Will Appreciate

Washington's
HOME Newspaper

Calendar of Events.

April 7—The Republic of Panama has replied to Secretary Hughes' note of March 16th and has refused to accept the decision of Chief Justice White as a basis for settlement of the controversy with Costa Rica. The National Assembly has unanimously approved this stand.

Dr. Sun Yat San, who was the first provincial President of China, has been elected, by a Parliament meeting in Canton, President of the Chinese Republic.

A White Paper issued by the British Government makes a sweeping denial of the charges that the British delayed American cable dispatches and gave information they contained to British firms. This charge was first brought up at the International Communications Conference at Geneva in November.

Former Emperor Charles of Hungary is now occupying a suite in the Hotel National in Lucerne, which was formerly occupied by King Constantine of Greece.

An ambush in the streets of Dublin resulted in the death of three civilians and the wounding of one civilian and one officer.

12,000 men have been thrown out of employment by the closing of the Fiat factory in Turin, Italy. The managers assert that this step was taken because of the opposition of workmen's organizations.

April 8—Titian's famous picture known as "The Man With the Falcon," which was formerly owned in this country but later went to England and then to Germany, has been purchased by Duveen Brothers and has returned to New York.

The city of Padua, Italy was the scene of conflict between Nationalists, Extremists and Socialists, resulting in one death and a number of injuries.

Sir Hamar Greenwood has announced that the British government will take no official cognizance of the report recently published by the American Commission of One Hundred on conditions in Ireland.

The German government has presented to the allies a document of some 500 pages asking that the whole of Upper Silesia be given to Germany.

Serious forest fires have broken out in France in the forests of Fontainebleau and Melun.

April 9—Adam Stegerwald, leader of the Centrist party, has been elected prime minister of Prussia by a large majority.

April 10—A semiofficial statement from the Turkish Nationalist government of Angora asserts that Turkey is not in reality fighting against either the Greeks or the French but against the British.

New York spends first dry Sunday because of determined efforts of the police department to enforce the State liquor laws to the limit.

In an interview the German foreign minister announced that a new reparation offer will be made before May first.

April 11—Negotiations between British coal operators and miners opened at the board of trade under the chairmanship of Prime Minister Lloyd George.

Augusta Victoria, Princess of Slesvig-Holstein, former Empress of Germany, died at Doorn, Holland, from chronic heart trouble.

The Irish Dominion League and representatives favoring home rule met under the chairmanship of Sir Horace Plunkett and passed resolutions asking that the two parliaments to be elected act as a constituent assembly to draft a constitution for Ireland on the basis of dominion status.

Navy Department announces that the airplane expedition sent from Washington to blaze a trail to the Virgin Islands had turned back because of a plague at San Domingo City, one of the points scheduled as a stopover on the trip.

April 12—The 67th Congress of the United States convenes. President Harding delivers his message in person, stressing rejection of the league of nations, a technical state of peace with Germany through Congressional resolution, and a permanent peace based on the Versailles treaty with the league provisos removed.

According to dispatches from Tokyo, a Japanese envoy may be sent to America to discuss problems of the Pacific which affect both Japan and the United States.

Sir Alfred Tristram Lawrence has been appointed Lord Chief Justice of England to succeed Lord Reading who is now Viceroy of India.

April 13—Count Paul Teleki, Hungarian prime minister, has been forced to resign because of opposition to his conduct while the former Emperor Charles was in Hungary.

The Chilean cabinet have offered their resignations to President Alessandri because of opposition in the senate to a diplomatic appointment. The President has refused to accept these resignations.

The Canadian house of commons has defeated a motion for the adoption of a reciprocity agreement with the United States signed in Washington in 1911.

April 14—Greeks repulse Turk attack at Afium Karahissa and take 6,000 prisoners.

United States Railroad Labor Board orders abrogated, effective July 1, the national agreements defining working conditions for employes on all railroads formerly under control of the Federal Railroad Administration.

Washington's
HOME Newspaper

Do Your Self A Good Turn

You like good fiction but you don't want stories "second-hand." You naturally prefer FIRST RUN stories by good authors. Do yourself a "good turn" by turning to

The Washington Herald Fiction Section Presenting Every Sunday

By Noted Authors

These stories appear in Washington EXCLUSIVELY in The Herald. Among the famous authors who contribute are

Holworthy Hall
Vicente Blasco Ibanez
Vingie E. Roe

Mabel McElliott
Courtney Riley Cooper
Elizabeth Jordan

Mary Synon
Burton Kline
Dana Gatlin

Washington's MOST
READABLE Newspaper